

COULD THE POLICE IDENTIFY YOUR STOLEN PROPERTY?

To assist police in identifying stolen property, bringing thieves to justice and preventing someone else benefiting from your loss, register all your property for FREE on www.immobilise.com

This FREE online, register will inform all the UK Police and registered second hand dealers that your item of property is stolen. Should it be offered for sale to a registered dealer or come into contact with the police then a check of the system could reunite you with your stolen or lost property.

Property is already being recovered from handlers and thieves and is being reunited with its owners.

Join this scheme today, it's FREE, what have you got to lose? ... apart from a bike, mobile phone, laptop, ipad, DVD, Plasma TV, Xbox and the rest of your belongings.

TOP TIPS TO PROTECT YOUR BIKE

Most bikes have a number stamped on the frame. Register your bike with its frame number on www.immobilise.com

Take a photo of your bike and add it to your online register.

Always lock your bike with a quality lock to a solid structure or something heavy.

Most stolen bikes are locked with cheap locks, so don't waste your money. A decent lock will last for years, look for the solid secure quality stamp, your cycle dealer will advise you.

Make sure your bike stays where you left it.

ALWAYS LOCK IT... AND LOCK IT WELL!

MARK IT!

Your phone

Your MP3 player

Your camera

Your stereo

Your laptop

Your TV

Your bike

Your games console

If any of the items above got lost or stolen, they'd probably leave a noticeable gap in your life. When it comes to your valuables, if you'd miss it, mark it.

Most property has a serial number, but if it doesn't, marking your property with your postcode and house number makes it unique & identifiable.

Every mobile phone has a unique IMEI number. Find yours by keying *#06# into the key pad. Register your mobile phone today for FREE.

Your local Neighbourhood Policing Team can also engrave your cycles for free. Contact them on 101 or visit: www.humberside.police.co.uk for a cycle marking event near you.

REGISTER IT!

If your property is stolen make sure you can describe it to the police by keeping a record of makes, models and unique serial numbers by registering the details onto www.immobilise.com www.immobilise.com is a web based property records system, endorsed and searchable by all UK Police Forces and can help ensure stolen property can be identified whilst helping to bring offenders to justice.

HOW TO USE WWW.IMMOBILISE.COM

Get your electricals and treasured possessions close to hand, go online and visit www.immobilise.com

Create an account following the simple instructions, before adding property details including unique serial numbers for free.

If possible also mark your postcode and house number onto property with a UV pen and register these details onto the website.

If anything you've logged goes missing, inform the police and update it as lost or stolen on www.immobilise.com to help police recover and return your property.

TRACK IT!

Software is available that allows you to locate your stolen laptop or Android mobile. Alternatively it can record what is being viewed on your screen or take a picture on the camera which can help identify the location of the property or the person in possession of it.

Some software programmes have a small charge like mobile phone Apps, but there are also downloadable programmes which are free for laptops. Search on the web for "free laptop tracking programmes".
